- Updates:
  - VFW
    - They are hoping to bring back the Memorial Day parade in years to come, but this year there will still be a service
    - Plymouth VFW is closing and donated 15K to the Bremen VFW
    - Recently had an anonymous donor pay off the building (around 15K)
    - On Sunday at 8:00, the Bremen Conservation Club is hosting a fundraising b-fast at the VFW to raise money for the Boys and Girls Club
  - Town
    - The Farmer's Market has 12 vendors, and are still open to more. It's $5 a week and the rest of the details are still being worked out
    - The Summer's End Fest will be in the old Bi-County parking lot. There should be electricity and water. Trend will see about the closing road and there will be a beer garden again (VFW). Dates to come
    - Be careful with the construction coming up
  - Theatre
    - May 31st through the first week of August, there will be a free movie for families on Thursdays and Wednesdays (times to come), all sponsored by local businesses. Film festival lineup to come
  - Lochmandy
    - 2 motorcycles for sale
    - Pancake b-fast on Saturday morning
    - Good deals with new vehicles, up to 36 months no interest
